(O) Organic: The operation is certified by an accredited agency to meet national standards for raising produce or livestock in a way that does not harm the environment and that preserves or improves soil fertility, soil structure, and farm sustainability. Usually this means: avoidance of most synthetic chemical inputs, genetically modified organisms, irradiation, and the use of sewage sludge; chemical free for 3 years; periodic inspections, etc.

(PF/CF) Pesticide/Chemical Free: Some growers specify not using substances (other than those allowed for organic growers) that are a food safety concern.

(S) Sustainable: Sustainable refers to farming systems that are capable of maintaining their productivity while providing benefits to society indefinitely. May refer to caring for the soil through crop rotation, use of cover crops, minimum tillage, minimum pesticides/herbicides. Definitions may vary.

(T) Transitional: Organic certification standards are strict and expensive. Farms marked as "Transitional" are farms in the process of going organic.

IPM) Integrated Pest Management: An environmentally sensitive approach to pest management that uses current, comprehensive information on the life cycles of pests and their interaction with the environment.

For animals:

(CHR) Certified Humanely Raised – An inspection, certification and labeling program for meat, poultry, egg and dairy products from animals raised to humane care standards.

(FR) Free Range – Have access to outside area is the minimum expectation.

(G/PF) Grass/Pasture fed - Animals are mainly raised on pasture rather than confined in feedlots and fed grain.

(HF/AF) Hormone free/Antibiotic free –Animals that are fed hormones to force weight gain are more likely to develop disease than healthy animals that achieve the same weight naturally. Antibiotics are routinely prescribed in animal operations that use hormones. (Hormones are not permitted in chicken production.) The use of hormones and antibiotics are a health concern to some.

(HR) Humanely raised - Raising animals with sufficient space, shelter, and gentle handling to limit stress. Making sure they have ample fresh water and a healthy diet without added antibiotics or hormones.

(NR) Naturally raised - USDA proposal states the animals cannot be administered antibiotics, hormones or animal by-products.
